Fire Engine Did Excellent Work.
The steamer General Putnam made an excellent record of efficiency at the fire in Wildwood park last Saturday afternoon. The test given at the demonstrated beyond doubt that the machine is one of the best of its size in the state. The steamer worked beautifully and showed what is capable of doing when it is getting sufficient water. A six inch suction pipe was dropped into the lake and with two streams on the water was driven with such force as to require an extra man at the nozzles. With the door of the firebox open, the indicator held steadily at 100 pounds and the engine ran along as smoothly as a watch.

There have been times when the engine has been considered incapable of pumping water fast enough, but the test of Saturday showed that the trouble is with the hydrants and not with the machine. With two streams on the hydrant valves are so small that the water cannot flow in sufficient volume to meet the capacity of the pump. There was much satisfaction among the members of the steamer company at the demonstration of what the machine is capable of doing with sufficient water.

Mr. Torrey is a veteran and the meeting occurred at the Buckingham Memorial.

The baby is inclosed in a sort of hammock, and the clock rocks it for half to three-quarters of an hour with a single winding. Its inventor has a number of children of his own.

Brought Down to Date.
"Man wants but little here below, nor wants that little long," is what they sang some years ago—but it's now another song. The words we use are different quite, though fully as sublime, "Man wants everything in sight, and wants it all the time."—Judge.

Agricultural Maxim.
It is a maxim universally agreed upon in agriculture, that nothing must be done too late; and again, that everything must be done at the proper season; while there is a third precept, which reminds us that opportunities lost can never be regained.—Pitts.

Make Good Use of To-Day.
To-morrow is the biggest thief in the world. Don't be gullible to his promises. They are all fakes. 'Tis only to-day that can do you any service. To-morrow may never come at all.

Herold Remedy.
It is the custom in certain parts of Scotland among the women laborers in the field when their backs begin to ache from bending low while working with short-handled hoes, to lie down, their faces upon the ground, and allow others to step upon the lower part of the backs with one foot several times. This operation is known as "straightening the back."

Few Errors in Mail Service.
In the railway mail service in 1938, before it was brought into the classified service under the law, there was one error in distribution of mail matter for every 3,700 pieces correctly handled; in 1937, some years after the new system became operative, there were 12,000 pieces accurately sorted for every one that went astray.

Contributory Negligence.
"Women by thousands are sacrificed in marriage," cries a female reformer. Then all we have to say is that women are foolish and deserve their fate. If they can't judge by the horrors around them and persist in getting married, whose fault is it?—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Precautionary Measure.
Photographer—"Great Scott, man! Can't you look a little more cheerful?" Mr. H. Enneke—"No, sir. Not for this picture. I'm to send it to my wife, who is away on a visit, and if I looked too cheerful she'd take the first train for home."

A Sister to Him, Maybe.
It was after the lovers' quarrel. "And now," he remarked, sadly, "I suppose we must meet as strangers." "Not at all," she replied, coldly. "If we met as strangers we should probably fall in love with each other again."—Philadelphia Record.

First Start of Immense Business.
Life insurance is common in all great cities, but did you know that the business was established in this city? A tablet on a building in Wall street, facing Hanover square, contains the information that in 1842 Morris Robinson, a Canadian, started the business in the United States in a building the site of which is marked by the tablet.—New York Times.
